Celebration of Life for Hosking on Sept. 24

skill and sensitive portrayal of animals and Inuit people," the couple stated in an email.

"Sue indicated her desire to donate the funds raised from selling her art to the Aboyne Rural Hospice but was unsure how this could be done. We suggested having an art auction."

Dennis Novosad photographed and catalogued approximately 90 pieces of Hosking's art and placed each piece in protective sleeves. Cathy researched possible web sites for an auction and contacted Aboyne Rural Hospice to initiate and organize a sale.

"Sue got to see her photographed art before she passed away," Cathy said.

The online auction hosted by Rapid-Sell will be live from Sept. 22 at noon to Sept. 26 at 7pm.

The link can be found at <https://bid.rapid-sell.ca/ui/auctions/126851>.

On Sept. 24, there will be a Celebration of Life service for Hosking at the Wellington County Museum and Archives. It promises a day full of events that capture Hosking's interests and passions:

- 11am, Trail Walk starting from Aboyne Library;

- 12pm, enjoy a light lunch and remembrances of

Sue shared in the Archives' Nicholas Keith room;

- 1pm, educational smudging ceremony; and

- 2 to 6pm, public viewing of Hosking's paintings - the paintings will continue to be available for viewing by those with an interest in the auction.

For those who make a purchase, the paintings cannot be shipped.

Pick-up events are scheduled for Sept. 28 from 10:15am to noon and Sept. 29 from 1:15pm to 3pm in the program room at the Aboyne library, 552 Wellington Road 18, beside the museum.

"People can choose to do part of it or all of it," Donkers said, referring to the Celebration of Life events.

Donkers noted Hosking received superb care at Groves hospital and at Wellington Terrace but that neither is designed to accommodate family or visitors of someone who is dying the way a hospice can.

"The need for a rural hospice is huge," she said.

"Sue knew that. That's why she wanted to do this.

"She never had very much and lived frugally, but she had a very rich life and a rich network of friends.

"Friendship was her currency."
